

PRINT HEAD DOCTOR REVIEW

I am owner of a printing and sign making company in the UK, I have a Agfa Anapurna amongst many other machines, I had been operating this machine for approximately 2 years without any issues with my heads. After this time I had streaking lines in print and my Spectra print heads needed either replacing or cleaning. I was advised to use neat acetone to clean my print heads, I wasn't in a position to spend £12,000 for new heads so I purchased 5 litres of acetone. I ran the liquid through my heads which caused serious problems, it actually made the problem a lot worse. I then went onto the net to see if there was any other options. I came across printheaddoctor.com, I researched this machine and there were mixed reviews. I had to try this option and purchased the machine which arrived after a few days. I then ran through the process of cleaning the heads on the Print-head Doctor machine. I thought it would recover the print heads only slightly. To my amazement 8 out of 10 heads came up really well, my engineer was also shocked and put the heads back in the machine. I produced all of the jobs after that without any problems. This machine only cost around £1500 but has saved me just on the first instance £12,000. I was delighted, and wanted to put the record straight. ITS A FANTASTIC MACHINE AND IT DOES EXACTLY WHAT IT SAYS IT WILL DO AND WILL SAVE YOU A LOT OF MONEY. MONEY WELL SPENT! A VERY HAPPY CUSTOMER OF PRINTHEADDOCTOR.COM
